

NATIONAL SPORTING LIBRARY & MUSEUM

2019 ANNUAL REPORT

LEADING THE FIELD
Ellen Emmet Rand

FROM THE DIRECTOR

As we navigate through the current times of managing a Museum and Library during a pandemic, the staff and I reflect back on 2019 with great pride regarding the many accomplishments at the NSLM thanks to the support of our friends and donors.

Last year saw several NSLM-curated exhibitions, including NSLMology: The Science of Sporting Art, Deconstructed: The NSLM Sporting Screen, Canter & Crawl: The Glass Sculpture of Joan Danziger, and the immensely popular Leading the Field: Ellen Emmet Rand. These exhibitions attracted new and returning visitors of all ages. NSLMology was developed to create a family learning experience focused on education's STEAM principles, complete with a Family Guide booklet, and several hands-on activities. This exhibition was extremely popular with schools in the surrounding area. Deconstructed showcased the recently conserved four-panel decorative screen surrounded by works on loan from the Yale Center for British Art and rare books from the NSLM collection. A sensory experience, Canter & Crawl celebrated the beautiful wire and glass sculptures of contemporary artist Joan Danziger and offered many opportunities for programs involving the artist herself. Last but not least, the Ellen Emmet Rand exhibition almost certainly "Lead the Field" with visitors who enjoyed the culmination of over three years of research by George L. Ohrstrom, Jr. Head Curator Claudia Pfeiffer, which resulted in new scholarship about both the professional and private life of this prolific artist. We are especially proud of creating a virtual tour of Leading the Field prior to its deinstallation, which will preserve this important exhibition for future viewers and researchers.

The Forrest E. Mars, Sr. Exhibit Hall reopened with an exhibition entitled Pencil, Pen, and Brush: Paul Brown: An Illustrated Life. Special Library projects completed in 2019 include the migration of its digital repository from a custom platform to the Internet Archive. In addition to the functionality being more user-friendly, the Library's materials are exposed to a much wider audience on this platform—and it is free. The Library also completed the cataloging of its periodical holdings.

NSLM's public programming continued to be diverse and popular and included long-standing favorites such as Coffee with the Curator and Sunday Sketch. We also increased our academic tours, educational lectures, and specialty programs such as Hood & Talon: Falconry Through the Present Day. Master Falconer Mike Dupuy spoke to a crowd of nearly 60 about the sport and followed this with a demonstration of his various breeds of raptors. Our Open Late summer concert series returned for a fifth year with the addition of many new community partners and welcomed 1,282 attendees.

NSLM was privileged to receive several donations, including paintings, sculptures, and angling ephemera. The Museum also acquired two rare third-scale sculptures by Herbert Haseltine, Percheron Stallion: Rhum and Percheron Mare: Messaline and Foal.

On behalf of all of us here at the NSLM, we look forward to continuing the dynamic programming, exhibitions, and community outreach that have become hallmarks of our institution.

Best Regards,

Elizabeth von Hassell
Executive Director

SCHOLARSHIP

Since 2007, the NSLM has hosted over 80 research fellows honoring the legacy of sportsman and book collector John H. Daniels (1921–2006). Past John H. Daniels Fellowship recipients include post-graduate students, authors, curators, professors, and scholars researching a variety of subjects related to turf and field sports. The diversity of Fellows' projects reflects the wide variety of material within the F. Ambrose Clark Rare Book Room and the NSLM collections. Topics have included history, art, literature, anthropology, and sport, with research projects ranging from the architecture of horse stables, history of horsemanship, equestrian fashion, and poetry, to falconry, veterinary science, environmental conservation, and fly fishing.

DAVID GERLEMAN, GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

AND THE COMING OF THE CIVIL WAR, 1850-1865”

FELLOW PROFILE

Dr. Charles Caramello is Professor Emeritus of English at the University of Maryland. First appointed a John H. Daniels Fellow for 2017, he conducted research on the Earl of Pembroke and William Tyndale, using the many editions of their works in NSLM's rare books collection. This resulted in an annotated scholarly edition, Eighteenth Century Equitation: "Military Equitation; A Method of Breaking Horses and Teaching Soldiers to Ride" by The Earl of Pembroke & "A Treatise on Military Equitation" by William Tyndale (2018). Returning as a Daniels Fellow for 2018 and 2019, Dr. Caramello worked on a book-in-progress on horsemanship and cavalry, Horsemen, Horse Soldiers, and Grand Illusions, completed in 2020 and forthcoming. He is now researching a book, Riding Between the Wars: Profiles in Equitation, 1914-1945, using NSLM's archives. While a Fellow, he has also published some twenty articles on the websites Horse Talk, Foxhunting Life, and Eventing Nation, and has shared his research with the NSLM community through two public lectures and three contributions to NSLM's blog, Drawing Covert. In June 2019, Dr. Caramello was approved for a multi-year term on his next fellowship which runs June 1, 2019 through May 31, 2024.

Exhibitions:

In 2019 the Library made security arrangements that allowed us to reopen the Forrest E. Mars, Sr. Exhibit Hall to the public. The first exhibition in the newly reopened space was Pencil, Pen, and Brush: Paul Brown: An Illustrated Life. It was curated by Grace Pierce, NSLM Intern and Visitor Services Associate, and featured a sold-out lecture that was held in the gallery on October 20, 2019.

Acquisitions:

Two acquisitions were made at the New York Book Fair for the F. Ambrose Clark Rare Book Room in 2019.

Original Pictorial Story about Steeplechasing on Pigs, W. Baldock (artist) (late 19th century)

A series of twelve hand-colored plates depicting the challenges and difficulties inherent in steeplechasing but through the comic lens of using pigs as the mounts. The gift of Mrs. Frances M. Dulaney.

Fox Hunting by Henry Alken (1813)

London S. & J. Fuller. A scarce series of four hand-colored plates by Henry Alken (1785-1851) depicting scenes of foxhunting. An early work that predates all of Alken's published books. The plates are entitled "Throwing Off," "Breaking Cover," "In Full Cry," and "The Death." The gift of Mrs. Jacqueline B. Mars.

Special Projects:

In the fall of 2019, the Library migrated its digital repository from a custom platform to the Internet Archive. This platform exposes the Library's materials to a much wider audience, has better functionality, and is free. The NSLM joins other institutions such as the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian, and many major Universities on Internet Archive. The Library's digitized holdings can be viewed here, https://archive.org/details/@national_sporting_library_museum.

Periodical holdings in the Library's Lower Level.

The Library has completed the cataloging of its periodical holdings bringing the bulk of the major cataloging and classification project to a close. All book and periodical holdings are now findable in the Library's online catalog. We plan to add our vertical file holdings to the catalog in 2020, making these fragile and often unique items visible to researchers.
